

GEORGIA ART EDUCATION ASSOCIATION
1584 Hines Road Moreland, Georgia 30259

August, 2017

Greetings fellow art education enthusiasts,

On behalf of GAEA I want to thank you for your interest in joining other art educators this October in Augusta, Georgia. The fall conference is Georgia's largest state professional development opportunity exclusively developed for art educators. This conference, Voices, Visions, Visuals: the art of storytelling, will present a platform for collaboration, creativity, and align with your school's goal to improve the overall academic achievement for each student. Our conference workshops, sessions, and speakers will help you plan and deliver a quality art education experience for students that will ensure rigorous and meaningful learning.

Participating in exemplary professional learning workshops and sessions with other PK-12 art educators, museum educators, researchers, scholars, university professors, teaching artists, and administrators offers a unique opportunity to collaborate and learn from other professionals in the field, as well as share your school and district successes. Our featured speaker this year is Jonathan Green, the South Carolina Lowcountry artist. His iconic collection of cultural art will be a platform through which many of our conference ideals are supported. Augusta is a city rich with history and steeped in artistic heritage, combined with our conference you'll be surrounded by culture, climate, and creativity.

Please make plans now to attend. The conference is October 19-22, 2017 and registration is now open. We have secured a conference group rate discount at the Marriott Riverwalk, the $132.00 nightly rate will ensure you are centrally located and placed at the conference headquarters for quick access to workshops and sessions. Make note of our all-inclusive registration rates which includes an early-bird admittance.

Again, thank you for taking this first step and we look forward to seeing you soon in Augusta! In the meantime please make use of our resources and review our conference website which include link to register.
